CHALLENGES/PAIN POINTS

Before MySherri™, clutter was the norm in Nancy's home. With so many other responsibilities to worry about, there just wasn't time to organize and create order in her living space. Overfilled spaces made living that much harder, and oftentimes, more stressful. What's more, Nancy had a hard time delegating out the tasks she needed done, leaving them unfinished instead.

SOLUTIONS & TASK LIST

Nancy's MySherri™ Home Coordinator jumped into action, helping her purge overfilled spaces and create a much more organized home. MySherri™ also worked with Nancy to complete weekly tasks. Her Home Coordinator came up with other ways to make Nancy's life easier, often offering to do extra jobs that she had noticed Nancy needed done. While every week looked a little different, tasks included:

- Running errands
- Scheduling service providers
- Hanging shelves
- Downsizing closets
- Maintaining new organization systems
- Attending networking events

SUCCESS STORY: RESULTS

MySherri™ has given a nonrenewable resource back to Nancy—time. Now that she no longer has to worry about home organization she can spend much-needed time with her children and grandchildren. Her Home Coordinator makes her daily life easier, and communication is a breeze. Plus, she gets to enjoy her living and office space to the fullest!

“ Tracy is so easy to work with and I don't have to give her much instruction. I give her a list of things to do and I go about my business. If I'm on a call and she has finished everything, she always finds other things to do that make my life easier. She communicates very well and even offers to do things that she sees I need to have done. Sometimes it is hard for me to 'delegate' but MySherri makes it so easy.
